What's In This Dataset?

This dataset includes NYC school cafeteria inspection results from public, private and parochial schools for up to three years prior to the most recent inspection. The purpose of this dataset is to provide information on recent inspections. The rows of data represent each violation cited. Rows with no violation information represent inspections where no violations were cited. A combination of school CAMIS (Record ID) number and inspection date represent each unique inspection event. Schools that stop operating are removed. Therefore, this dataset is not appropriate for historical analyses of NYC school cafeteria inspections that compare previous years of data to the current data. In addition, private for-profit schools have appeal rights and can choose to go through the adjudication process, i.e., argue their case at an administrative hearing. The entire adjudication process from start to finish can take several months. Violations present as of today for private for-profit schools may be removed due to dismissal during adjudication in subsequent weeks or months. The change in violations cited due to adjudication is another reason why it is not valid to compare current scores to scores from previous years.
